

Worcester City Art Gallery & Museum: 1800s Japanese Prints Collection Museum Make-athon 1 - Writing Prompts

Learn more about the Japanese wood-block prints in Worcester City's collection:

- Visit Worcester City Art Gallery on Facebook for the second Museum Make-athon challenge inspired by the Japanese prints.
- Listen to our collection team's discussion about the prints on our Museums Worcestershire website and YouTube.
- Don't forget to share what you write and tag us on social media!

Asamizu is a silk-weaver, but in her spare time she likes to write poetry. She dreams of getting published and becoming a famous poet, but she is only a factory-girl and people like her aren't supposed to become writers. Tell Asamizu's story or write some of her poetry.

Worcester City Art Gallery & Museum: 1800s Japanese Prints Collection
Museum Make-athon 1 - Writing Prompts

This girl is reading a letter about a town by the sea that she used to visit. What does the letter say? What does she remember about the town? How does she answer the letter?

Worcester City Art Gallery & Museum: 1800s Japanese Prints Collection
Museum Make-athon 1 - Writing Prompts

It isn't easy carrying a boiling hot cup of tea down a wooden ladder when you're wearing a long dress! Why is she doing this? What happens next?